Guests today included Music Festival's Yvonne Robinson, Susan Crutcher, Donna Hood and Lee Allman.
Persons receiving applause were Ted Horton and Peter Little.
Persons receiving fines were Goldie for a car ($7), Stu for a trip to Mexico and Don for a trip to Cuba.

There was a great start to the Christmas cards, without a doubt Past President Don's poem to Ian was incredibly (fill in the blank if you were there).

The speakers were Kiwanian Bert Hood and Yvonne Robinson about the music festival and its lengthy history. The first local music festival had been in Meaford, and the Meaford Kiwanis club continues to assist. Medals were once given but that practice has changed. Last year the festival had 75 scholarships, 15 recommendations to the provincial level. There is a continuing need for volunteers to help, the festival runs in many venues each spring over a period of weeks.

Next meeting is for Christmas Cards.

Don't forget to support the Welsh choir concert coming soon. Sell some tickets and buy some for yourself.

No meetings over the Christmas holidays, round table
